

INFORMATION CONCERNING THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA CARRIED OUT BY
THE INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE OF BIOECONOMY
AND ENVIRONMENT EXEBIO

The University of Reims Champagne-Ardenne (2, avenue Robert Schuman 51100 Reims), undertakes to ensure that the processing of personal data complies with the General Data Protection Regulation (Règlement Général sur la Protection des Données - EU regulation 2016/679) and the law Information Technology and Liberties (Loi Informatique et Libertés - amended law of January 6, 1978).

We have a legitimate interest in collecting your data for the purposes of managing the organization of this conference and in keeping them in order to contact you in the context of new editions.

You have the possibility to object to the receipt of new requests by checking the box below and at any time, particularly when sending an email.

If you indicate your food intolerances, you consent to us processing this data as part of the organization of meals.

The recipients of the data are the International Institute of Bioeconomy and Environment EXEBIO staff in charge of organizing the conference.

Your email address is kept as long as you do not unsubscribe from receiving email information about new editions. Each edition being the subject of a registration, the other data is kept until the end of the conference.

You have the right to access, rectify and delete data that concerns you, as well as the right to limit the processing of your data.

For any questions about the processing of your data, you can contact service/name of the operational referent at the following address: exebio.contact@univ-reims.fr

If you consider, after contacting the URCA Data Protection Officer at the following address: dpo@univ-reims.fr, that your IT and Liberties rights are not respected, you have the option of submitting a complaint to the CNIL, online or by post.

I, the undersigned, Madam, Sir

I object to the URCA asking me to take part in other editions
